

Chapter 4: More Test Cases, Experiences

Our group now has 25 test cases (in exampleTests.txt in our GitHub repository) for the makeplural() and makesingular() functions in objnam.c. All test cases are testing independent portions of the code, as they should, making them unique and non-redundant.

The framework is built and outputs: tested-output correctness, function being tested, it's arguments and expected output, as well as the total time elapsed on completion of the test.
